Extensions – going one step further with the VELUX Flat Roof Window

"Extensions are the UK's most popular way of adding space to a home. With this in mind we've brought all of our technological know-how and experience to produce a product specially for flat roofs. We think the new VELUX Flat Roof Window will be a big hit with homeowners who are looking for an easy to install - and attractively priced - way of bringing light to the heart of an extension."

Keith Riddle, Managing Director, VELUX

New!

The VELUX Flat Roof Window is on display for the first time at Grand Designs Live London, and is available to consumers from May 2009.

It features:

- outstanding energy efficiency
- excellent sound insulation from rain and hail
- INTEGRA® option to provide a healthy indoor climate at the touch of a button– with built-in rain sensors so that the windows close automatically when it starts to rain
- a choice of six sizes
- a white internal finish, for a clean, contemporary look
- tailor made blinds to choose from, for maximum daylight control

The VELUX Flat Roof Window can be used alone, or in conjunction with traditional VELUX windows to add light and space to an extension.
